Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The building is a one story, red brick building, it is 3 bays by 2 bays, with a slate-covered hipped roof. On the main facade, the entrance is located in a central pedimented projecting pavilion. The entrance is flanked by pilasters and capped by a dentiled blind arch decorated in the center by a stylized "D". Windows with louvered shutters have splayed marble arches. There are also small marble panels on either side of the entrance. The rear facade is similar except that a palladian style window arrangement takes place off the entranceway.

The rear of the building faces onto a park, known as Veterans Park. It is bounded by Shipping Place, North Center Place, Dundalk Avenue and faces Center Place.

The interior of the windows still have "black-out" blinds in place.

The building was designed by Edward L. Palmer as part of a planned community for workers at Bethlehem Steel needed for World War I shipbuilding. This was one of 36 planned communities throughout the country constructed by the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corp. and the only one in Maryland. Ebenezer Howard's "Garden City" ideal was a major influence in the planning.

The building was constructed in 1924 to be used as the offices of the Dundalk Company which was originally formed to oversee development in Dundalk. They replaced the Federal Government as the major force in shaping the development of the remaining undeveloped land in the area. The first President of the company was Edward H. Bouton, who brought to the company his experience as president of the Roland Park Co. and his influence can be readily seen. (1)

In 1953, the Bethlehem Steel Company conveyed the structure to the County Commissioners with the proviso that it only be used for park or public building purposes. (2)

In 1954, the building was rededicated as the Dundalk Library with some alterations to the original building, however, the overall structure is original. The building is now leased by the Dundalk Patapsco Neck Historical Society and used as a museum, archives and community cultural center. (3)

NOTES:

- 1. The structure appears as "office" on 1928 town map. An early photo appeared in the 1929 advertising brochure, How To Own Your Own House.
